TERMS OF SALE

1. This is a public auction and mail bid sale, conducted by PONTERIO & ASSOCIATES, INC., licensed California Auction Co. #968 (hereafter "Auctioneer"). Subject to our consent, liberty for bidding by sellers and/or consignors is hereby reserved.
2. A 15% buyers charge will be added to the "hammer price" or winning bid of each lot. This charge will be added to all invoices.
3. Subject to paragraph 8, all material shall be sold to the highest bidder as determined by the Auctioneer. If any dispute arises during or immediately after the sale of a lot, Auctioneer shall have the right to recall the lot and put it up for sale again. In all cases, Auctioneer's decision shall be final. For the bidder's protection, NO "UNLIMITED" or "BUY" BIDS WILL BE ACCEPTED. Bids are to be made in U.S. currency only.
4. Terms of this sale are strictly cash with payment due immediately upon receipt of invoice. Payment by check must be payable in U.S. currency only and drawn on a U.S. Bank. No credit card purchases will be accepted. Title to all lots remains with consignor until paid in full.
5. Floor bidders and mail bidders not known to Auctioneer must furnish satisfactory credit references, sufficiently in advance of the sale to allow for checking, or per the discretion of the Auctioneer, a deposit equal to 25% of their total bids for that session(s) before such bids can be accepted. Deposits submitted will be applied to purchases and any unused portion of such deposit will be promptly refunded. All bid sheets submitted by mail bidders must be signed. Company bids must be submitted with the signature of a duly authorized agent of such company. If you bid by mail, mail your bid sheet early. Mail bidders agree to and are subject to these terms of sale just as if they were floor bidders.
6. All bids must be per lot as numbered in this catalogue. No lots will be broken. Lots will be sold in their numbered sequence unless Auctioneer directs otherwise. Auctioneer can not be responsible for errors in bidding. Please make certain that you bid on the correct lot and that your bid is the maximum that you are willing to pay.
7. An estimate is provided for each lot. This estimate represents, in the opinion of the cataloger, the current market value of the lot. Lots may, of course, sell for above or below this estimate.
8. Lot(s) may carry a Reserve. A Reserve is a confidential price or bid below which Auctioneer will not sell an item or will re-purchase on behalf of the Consignor or for the Auctioneer. In the event that a reserve is known to the Auctioneer prior to the publication of the catalogue, the low pre-sale estimate will equal or exceed the reserve. We reserve the right to withdraw any lot prior to the sale and to open the bidding on any lot at a reasonable price.
9. If Auctioneer, in its sole discretion, determines that any numismatic property is substantially and materially different from that represented in the catalogue of sale, or in any written advertisement or material, the sale shall be cancelled and Auctioneer shall refund the purchase price to the Buyer. Unless provided otherwise in these terms or the PNG bylaws, that refund shall be Auctioneer's sole obligation to Buyer in the event of such cancellation.
10. All items in this catalogue are guaranteed to be genuine unless specifically stated otherwise in the lot description. Claims to the contrary must be made in writing within three days after receipt of the lot. Any returned lot must be intact and in its original unopened holder. No lot may be returned without prior written consent. In no event may any lot be returned after thirty (30) days from the date of sale. LATE REMITTANCE FOR PURCHASES CONSTITUTES JUST CAUSE TO ABROGATE ALL RETURN PRIVILEGES FOR ANY REASON.
11. (a) Grading is a subjective description, in the opinion of the cataloger as to the state of preservation, method of strike and overall appearance of a particular coin or lot. The term "Proof" or "Specimen" is used to describe a method of manufacture, and is not a grade or condition or an attribution;

(b) Auctioneer does not represent that a numismatic item has or has not been cleaned; that any toning is natural or artificial; that any coin catalogued will meet the standards, or the grade, of any third party or third party grading service; that a numismatic item has a particular provenance or pedigrees; that a numismatic item is struck or not struck, or produced or not produced in a particular manner or style;

(c) Adjectival descriptions and terminology (which can and does vary among experts and knowledgeable purchasers), when utilized in the catalogue, are strictly the opinion of the cataloger and shall not be deemed to be part of the description; i.e. it is an opinion only and not a warranty of any kind;

(d) Grading descriptions in this catalogue are provided strictly for the convenience of those who bid by mail and who are unable to personally view the coins, and represents the cataloger's opinion of its state of preservation. Those attending the sale, and those bidders who actually view the lots should draw their own conclusions as to the state of preservation or grade of the numismatic item.
12. This is not an approval sale. Bidders are expected to promptly purchase all lots awarded to them by the auctioneer. Floor bidders are encouraged to carefully examine all lots which they are interested in purchasing, since NO LOTS MAY BE RETURNED BY FLOOR BUYERS, INCLUDING THOSE LOTS WHERE THE BIDDER IS ACTING AS AGENT FOR ANOTHER PARTY, OR BY MAIL BIDDERS WHO HAVE EXAMINED THE LOT PRIOR TO THE SALE.
13. Mail bids will be accepted from those who can not attend the sale in person. Bids for all lots must be submitted in even dollar amounts, or they will be reduced to the next even dollar amount. Mail (or fax) bids must be received prior to the day of the auction or there will be no guaranty that they will be timely executed. Successful mail bidders will be awarded the lot at nominal 5% or 10% over the second highest mail or floor bid. When identical bids are received by Auctioneer for a lot, preference is given to the first bid received. A mail bid will take precedence over an identical floor bid. A floor bidder must bid higher than the highest mail bidder to be awarded any lot.
14. Auctioneer is an "insider" and may have access to confidential information not otherwise available to the public with respect to value, provenance, availability, and other factors. Purchasers should make themselves acquainted with the numismatic items that they are purchasing and avail themselves of the services of outside consultants prior to engaging in any purchase.
15. Auctioneer reserves the right to refuse to honor any bid or to limit the amount of any bid which, in his opinion, is not submitted in "Good Faith", or, as the case dictates, is not supported by satisfactory credit and numismatic references, as Auctioneer, in its sole discretion, shall determine. A bid is also considered not made in "Good Faith" when it is made by an insolvent or irresponsible person, or a person under the age of eighteen. Auctioneer reserves the right to exclude any person it deems in its sole opinion is disruptive to the sale or is otherwise commercially unsuitable. Auctioneer reserves the right to rescind the sale in the event of any nonpayment, breach of warranty, disputed ownership, Auctioneer's clerical error or omission in exercising bids and reserves or otherwise.
16. All photographs in this catalogue are of the actual items being sold.

17. Postage, insurance and sales tax, if required by law to be collected, will be added to the invoice for any lot(s) invoiced to successful bidders. All lots delivered in the state of California are subject to applicable sales tax. Individuals purchasing lots for resale must submit an exemption certificate, signed by the purchaser or his agent and recognized by the state of California, with their current resale certificate number or be subject to the sales tax.
18. Auctioneer reserves the right to require payment in full before delivering any lot to a successful bidder. It is the buyer's responsibility and obligation to have the lots fully insured while in his/her possession. Risk of loss is on the buyer. All lots sent to foreign countries, including Canada and Mexico, will be billed an additional 1/2 of 1% for insurance. The minimum insurance fee is $5.00. Please send shipping instructions. Normally all lots will be sent via registered mail.
19. In the event a bidder fails to make remittance promptly, auctioneer reserves the right to resell the merchandise and bidder agrees to pay for the reasonable cost of such a sale and also to pay any difference between the resale price and the previously successful bid.
20. Auctioneer reserves the right to postpone the auction sale for a reasonable period of time, as the result of any act of war, natural calamity or significant relevant event, which, in the judgement of Auctioneer, reasonably exercised, make it inadvisable to hold the auction.
21. By bidding in this sale, bidder personally guarantees payment; if a corporation is the bidder, the officers and/or principals of the corporation agree to personally guarantee payment. Mail or fax bids must be signed.
22. Auctioneer reserves the right to include its own material in any auction sale. Auctioneer may have direct or indirect interests in auction lots. Auctioneer may make loans or advances to consignors and/or prospective purchasers. The Consignor may be permitted to bid on his, her or their own articles and to buy them back at the sale. Any Buyer who bids on or purchases their own goods is required to pay for them, in full, as the terms of sale provide for together with the full buyer's commission, and any other applicable surcharges, postage, handling, insurance fees and taxes, without rebate of any kind whatsoever, unless provided for otherwise by contract with Auctioneer. Auctioneer reserves the right to make accounting adjustments in lieu of payment. Settlement will follow the auction. The prices realized reflect the final price called by Auctioneer and may include a bid of a consignor reacquiring their lot.
23. In the event Auctioneer shall, for any reason other than set forth in paragraph 8, be unable to deliver the property sought to be purchased, its liability therefore shall be limited to the rescission of the sale and refund of the purchase price and buyer's fee plus interest at 10% per annum if refund is made greater than 60 days after payment. Auctioneer shall have no liability for damages, incidental, consequential or otherwise, arising out of its failure to deliver any property purchased, and all bidders agree to this.
24. Auctioneer shall have a lien against the merchandise purchased by the buyer and any other property of the buyer then held by Auctioneer to secure payment of the auction invoice(s) and any other amounts due Auctioneer from the buyer, with the respect to which Auctioneer shall have all the rights of a secured creditor under Article 9 of the California Uniform Commercial Code.
25. It is unlawful and illegal for Bidders to collude, pool, or agree with another Bidder to pay less than the fair value for lot(s). Bidders in the sale acknowledge that the law provides for substantial penalties in the form of treble damages and attorney's fees and costs for those who violate these provisions.
26. If any dispute arise regarding payment, participation, authenticity, or grading or any other matter pertaining to the sale, and those disputes cannot be resolved, the bidder and/or a participant in the Auction Sale and Auctioneer all agree that the dispute shall be submitted to binding arbitration in accordance with the rules of the Professional Numismatists Guild (PNG) or American Arbitration Association (AAA), per the election of the bidder/participant. The AAA arbitration shall be conducted under the provisions of the California Arbitration Act and venue shall be conducted under the provisions of the California Arbitration Act and venue shall be in San Diego, California. The arbitration costs shall initially be paid equally by the parties. If an election is not made within ten (10) days of an unresolved dispute, Auctioneer may elect either PNG or AAA arbitration. An award granted in arbitration is enforceable in any court. The prevailing party in any dispute shall be entitled to receive its attorneys' fees, expert witness fees, costs and arbitrator's fees. By placing a bid (mail, fax, phone, floor, electronic or otherwise) or by attending or by participating in an auction, a bidder and all participants accept these Terms and Conditions of Sale, and agrees to be bound.
27. Bidding in this sale (by any means) or participating in this sale constitutes acceptance by the bidder or participant of all the forementioned terms and conditions of sale.

INSTRUCTIONS TO NEW MAIL BIDDERS

Bidding by mail permits you to participate in an auction as though you were attending it in person. The procedure is really quite simple. You tell us what you want, and the maximum amount you are willing to pay. We then, as your personal agent, try to buy the items listed for you at the lowest possible price.

The enclosed mail bid form has two sides for you to fill in. The front side provides all the information we will need to register you as a bidder, execute your bids for you and deliver your lots to you if you are a successful bidder. Please answer all the questions that may apply to you. If you have any special mailing instructions or and/or other instructions, please note them in the "special instructions" area of your bidsheet. DON'T FORGET TO SIGN YOUR BIDSHEET.

LOT	BID
#2	$200
#28	$400
#29	$700
#33	$1000

On the back side are pairs of columns where you may list your bids. After carefully reading the lot description, write down the lot number and the maximum amount you are willing to pay for that lot. Don't forget that a 15% buyer's fee will be added to your actual purchase price if you are the lucky bidder. Continue to list lot numbers and bids for each of the lots you are interested in buying.

When we receive your bidsheet, we will record your bids at the amount you have authorized us to bid for you, and we will, in addition, note any lots where an increase is authorized if absolutely needed to win the lot. For example, if the sample bidsheet shown at the right were yours, we would enter your bid on lot #2 as $200. If yours was the highest bid received, you would be the purchaser at $200. (plus 15%), and applicable taxes and shipping charges. If the second highest bid received on the lot was substantially less, your bid would be reduced to a "normal" increment above the second-highest bid, just as it would be if you were present at the sale yourself to execute your own bids. If you have authorized a percentage increase on the front side of your bidsheet and the bidding by others has exceeded your basic bid, we will then, as your personal agent, increase your bid to the minimum amount necessary to obtain the lot for you. The authorized increase will never be used except when your basic bid is exceeded.

Before you mail your bidsheet, do be sure to check it over to make certain you have bid on the correct lot(s) and that your bids are the ones you are both willing and able to pay for. Enjoy the catalog, place bids on everything you would like to buy. If time is running out and you feel your bidsheet may arrive too late to be included, you may call our office between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, giving us the lot numbers and amount you will pay for each lot, over the telephone. Please make sure you immediately send in your bidsheet for confirmation. Also, you may FAX your bidsheet to us. As your personal agents we wish you every success.

VIEWING OF LOTS

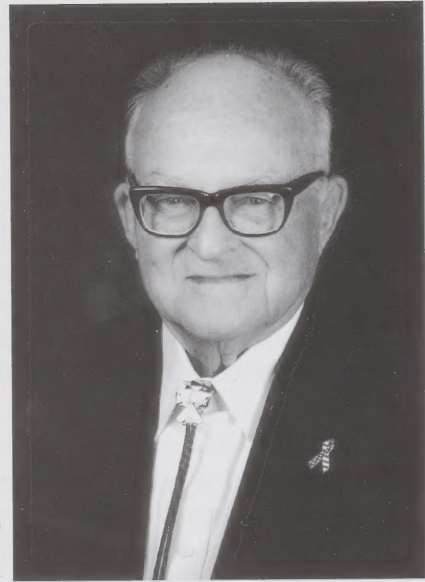

Lots will be available for viewing by prospective bidders at our office each day, Monday through Friday, by APPOINTMENT ONLY, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., March 6 through March 23, 2006 only. Additionally, all material will be available for viewing at the Chicago International Coin Fair to be held at the Crowne Plaza Chicago O'Hare Hotel.

Donald L. Knittle

Donald Knittle was born in Douglas, Wyoming in 1922. Upon his completion of high school in Casper, Wyoming he attended Pacific States University in Los Angeles, California where he studied Electrical Engineering. He completed three years of studies before he volunteered for military service in 1942 during World War II. After he served for three years in the Pacific's China-Burma-India theater, he returned to school to complete his studies. Don embarked on a brief career in geophysical oil exploration in Paraguay, this enabled visits to Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Panama and Mexico. Through his travels Don was able to acquire a few coins (mainly from circulation).

Later he turned to a career in Aerospace Engineering from 1950 to 1992, working for Northrop and briefly with Lockheed. Under contract of NASA while with Northrop, he supervised the Vibration and Acoustic Laboratory at the Johnson Manned Space Flight Center in Houston, Texas. Vacations in Mexico rekindled his interest in collecting Latin American coinage. Don turned to serious coin collecting as a diversion from the everyday challenges in his work. He purchased a copy of Elizondo Jr.'s book "Eight Reales and Pesos of the New World" and set his main focus of collecting on Latin American crowns. As his collection grew over the years, he focused on a few specialized areas, such as Bolivia, Peru and Imperial Mexico during the reign of Augustine Iturbide. He collected these areas by date, assayer and variety. While his collecting continued to grow so did his knowledge of Latin American coins. Correspondences with Colin Bruce of the Krause-Mishler team for "World Coins" helped resolve some of the confusion and difficulties surrounding different types of Peruvian coinage in the "Standard Catalog of World Coins". His contributions to that publication also helped list several new types that had been previously unlisted.

Don retired in 1992 and moved to Arizona. His collection aggregated over 700 coins; over 500 coins represent distinct types (by country, design, date, assayer and mint) from 25 countries or colonies. Because of isolation from other collectors and distance from dealers and shows, it became more difficult to improve on the collection. Moreover, Don turned his interests to Southwestern Indian pottery, rocks, spheres and gemstones and exploring the back roads and old mines and railroads of his new environs. Although he still carries a great interest in numismatics, he feels it is time to return the coins to "circulation", to delight other collectors and perhaps to add to the knowledge and lore of a fascinating region and time.

The Transitional 8 Reales of Philip V
Struck at the Mexico City Mint
1732-1734

The Mexico City Mint underwent dramatic changes during the early 1730's. The introduction of new minting equipment and gradual phasing out of older coining methods resulted in a transitional period, produced numerous different coinage types and varieties. The numismatic findings recovered from the Dutch East Indiaman "Rooswijk" are largely focused on this area and offer a rare opportunity for Mexican numismatists to better study and understand the coinage of this period. With the uncovering of hoards and shipwreck finds, new discoveries are often made helping numismatists grasp a better understanding of coins and how they were produced.

In 1536, the Mexico city Mint became the first mint to produce coins in the New World. Initially the mint used the method of hammering coins by hand. This method remained in use until it was eventually phased out by the screw press some time in the year 1733. A royal decree was issued on June 9, 1728 authorizing the Mexico City Mint to strike new milled coinage (Pradeau, pg. 53). This set in motion a series of events that would drastically change and modernize the mint.

1. Patterns for the new milled coinage or "Pillar Dollar" as they are often called dated 1729 were struck at the Madrid Mint in Spain. An example of one such specimen can be seen on pg. x in the introduction of Frank Gilboy's book, "The Milled Columnarios of Central and South America". These were shipped to the New World mints as samples of the new coinage type. One such example is housed in the Mexico City Mint Museum's collection.
2. New minting equipment was imported from Spain, in effect mechanizing the mint with state-of-the-art machinery.
 - Screw presses to more efficiently strike coins
 - Mule-powered roller presses for flattening silver into sheets used in the production of coin planchets
 - Cylindrical punches for the cutting of planchets from sheets of metal
 - Edge milling machinery enabling coins to be produced with an ornamented edge, protecting it from clipping and counterfeiting

After the arrival of the new equipment, the first milled coins or "Pillar Dollars" were struck March 29, 1732 (Pradeau, pg. 53). Prior to this date the mint used the method of hammering coins by hand, known as "cobs". Although the origin of the term "cob" is uncertain, it is most likely an abbreviation from the Spanish term "cabo de barra" meaning "end of the bar". A name adopted due to the planchet's method of manufacture, cobs were hand struck on crude planchets that were cut from the end of a silver bar. During the year 1732, production continued for "cobs" and commenced for the first "milled" coinage.

1732 8 Reales "Cob" and 1732 8 Reales "Milled"

Fig. 1

In the following year 1733, the mint produced more different types and varieties of 8 Reales than in any other single year. Four major different types of 8 Reales were produced: Cobs, Cobs struck with "klippe" dies, Klippes and the milled "Pillar Dollars". Examples of the four major types can be seen in fig. 2. Of the four major types there are multiple varieties for each type, most of which are listed below. This year marks the end of the "cob" coinage as its final year of production.

1733 8 Reales Cob, 1733 8 Reales Cob struck with Klippe Dies,
1733 8 Reales Klippe and 1733 8 Reales Milled

Fig. 2

There were two major types of 8 Reales struck in 1734, Klippes and milled “Pillar Dollars”. This year marks the second and final year of the “klippe” coinage. Clearly they were only struck for a portion of the year until they were completely phased out by the milled “Pillar Dollar”. The majority of 1734 “klippes” were struck from 1733 recut dies. This would indicate that a smaller number of dies were manufactured with the intent to strike coins. The 1734 milled “Pillar Dollar” remains fairly common in comparison to the “klippe”. This is reflected on the fact that the striking of “klippe” coinage was temporary until the milled “Pillar Dollar” production was successfully in full effect.

Production of “Klippe” Coinage

Although little is published about how “klippes” were produced, a lot can be learned through examination of the coins. For instance, all “klippes” were struck with aligned dies set a fixed axis, including the cobs struck with klippe dies. The vast majority of coins examined have a medallic die axis, a small portion of them have coin die axis and a minute number have a slightly rotated medallic die axis. This information tells us that all klippes, including the ones struck on cob planchets were in fact machine struck. The planchets for the 1733 transitional coins or cobs struck with klippe dies, were produced in the same manner as traditional cobs. Klippe planchets however were produced differently, first by rolling or flattening silver into a sheet by the process of a mule-powered roller press. Planchets were then cut from the sheet and weighed. If needed, adjustment cuts or clips were made until the planchet was of the correct weight standard. The coin pictured in fig. 4 is an example of how planchets were cut from sheets. Note that the coin has two opposing edges at the top and bottom showing signs of stress cracks or edge splits (fig 4.1). These represent the original edges from the sheet of silver from which the planchet was cut. This coin also contains two opposing cut edges at the left and right, showing evidence of sheer marks (fig.4.2). These marks are where the initial cuts were made creating the planchet. Adjustment cuts were then made in the corners until the planchet was of the correct weight standard (fig. 4.3).

The exact reason the mint produced cobs, klippes and milled coinage between 1732 and 1734 seems to be unknown. It's probable that the mint encountered multiple problems which played a large role in this strange occurrence. In a 1987 American Numismatic Association, Numismatic theater lecture, Clyde Hubbard cited an original 18th century mint manuscript reporting that three new screw presses along with other equipment in route from Spain to Veracruz, Mexico were lost when the ship carrying them sank off the coast of Little Cayman Island. The lack of essential equipment, combined with the time needed to properly train personnel on new minting machinery resulted in the production of several new and fascinating transitional issues during this period. By contemporary standards, both state-of-the-art and antiquated minting machinery were in operation simultaneously. This resulted in the production of several new coinage types unique to this period of Mexican numismatics. In 1734, the mint discontinued the production of the short-lived klippes and converted solely to the striking of the milled "Pillar Dollars".

The prodigious increase of the Netherlands in their domestic and foreign trade, riches and multitude of shipping is the envy of present and may be the wonder of future generations' wrote Sir Josiah Child in 1669. Certainly what was called the 'Floating Republic' the Dutch East India Company (known as the VOC), was the most powerful of the world's corporations in the 17th century. Its voyages to the East Indies, China and Japan were legendary and established a political and economic empire of great extent.

The VOC was organized in six regional chambers, Amsterdam, Hoorn, Enkhuizen, Rotterdam, Delft and Middleburg (sometimes termed Zeeland). A central board with directors from each region called 'Heren XVII' or 'Gentlemen XVII' controlled its major policies. Amsterdam, being the largest and richest chamber, contributed eight members to the board and thus had the greatest power. At any time during the 17th century the Company had at least 150-200 large armed merchantmen under sail and many hundreds of other small craft and 'country ships'. The large vessels which went to the Indies were called 'retour schepen' (return ships). These were armed with 25-30 substantial cannon and sailed in three fleets a year from regional ports in Holland; the Kermis, or Fun-fair fleet, which sailed in September; the Christmas fleet, sailing in December or January; and the Easter fleet, sailing in April or May. The voyages usually took between five and eight months. The vessels traveled south on the Atlantic route, via the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands, St. Helena and Ascension. After the second half of the 17th century they put into the Cape to re-provision before joining the 'roaring forties'. They then proceeded due east until they reached the tiny islands of St. Paul and Amsterdam in 'about 38 degrees southern latitude' and then headed north past the west coast of Australia towards the Straits of Sunda and the Indies. The journeys were perilous, shipwrecks not infrequent and casualties from disease and accidents sometimes as high as 10%. The ships carried, apart from the seamen, many soldiers and merchants, officials of the Company as passengers. The seamen were often impressed foreigners, their lives described as 'nasty brutish and short'. Even if they survived the perilous journeys they often died of disease in fever-ridden Batavia (modern day Jakarta).

On the outward journeys the retour ships carried a cargo of trading goods; items such as building materials, stores for merchants and more importantly the 'treasure' - silver and gold in coinage or bullion bars packed into chests and carried in the Captain's cabin. It was this commodity that fueled the great expansion to the East - enabling the purchase of the spices, textiles, porcelain, pepper and tea that made the Company (and its shareholders and directors) rich and powerful.

The Company reached its height of power at the end of the 17th century, but by the end of the first half of the 18th it was already in steady decline. Some historians attribute this to the keen competition from the other East India Companies, particularly the English. Others see the VOC's decline as due to widespread corruption amongst officials, servants and naval officers - primarily in the area of private and illegal trade - aspects handled more skillfully by its English competitor.

In Holland, during the fourth decade of the eighteenth century, the home scene was one of problems and pessimism. There were widespread scandals involving sodomy, shipworm ravaging the wooden piles supporting the dykes and in 1739 an appallingly hard winter. According to the eminent historian Professor Boxer, this was the most traumatic decade in the history of the United Provinces of the Netherlands.

In England the period was also one of turmoil. The war between Spain and England had broken out in 1739. The warships of France were prowling the Western Approaches looking for rich pickings in the merchant ships coming down the channel. In England too it was a winter of record-breaking cold and storms - the Thames froze solid and people died daily from exposure.

During late December 1739, in the roads off the northern Dutch Islands of Texel, the Rooswijk, a retour ship owned by the Amsterdam Chamber and built two years earlier in Amsterdam, was taking aboard its stores, cargo, crew and passengers for her second long journey to the Indies. Accountants and officials of the company supervised the loading of 30 chests of treasure containing silver coins minted primarily in Mexico and 1,000 silver bars in 20 of the chests. Each pine chest was wrapped in canvas tied with rope, which when they reached the Captain's cabin were sealed in red wax with its personal seal and signed off the Accountants ledgers. On 18th December 1739, with the crew and a company of soldiers and passengers safely aboard, Captain Daniel Ronzieres set sail for Batavia. The 145 ft. 850 ton Rooswijk was accompanied by three other Indiamen in the Christmas fleet, the larger Birkenrode of 1150 tons and the smaller vessels, the Beukestijn and the Vis.

The journey was fated not to last long. One day after leaving Texel the Rooswijk struck the treacherous Goodwin Sands off the South East coast of England in a heavy storm.

'the Goodwins I think they call the place: a very dangerous flat and fatal place where the carcasses of many a tall ship lied buried" wrote Shakespeare in the Merchant of Venice, describing the treacherous area of shifting sands and horrendous currents known also as 'the ship-swallower'.

The weather was so bad that the boatmen of the towns of Deal and Ramsgate, experts in salvage and rescue, were unable to launch their boats to seek for either survivors or floating cargo. Every soul aboard died, sucked down into the sands and none of the bodies seems to have come ashore. Some of the cargo and debris however did and from a box 'cast up', the local inhabitants were able to identify the ship as the Rooswijk from a bundle of letters and papers inside.

Within a few days the news was published in the St. James Evening Post - and the Dutch Ambassador informed. Notices were posted that any goods coming ashore and salvaged must be surrendered. Salvage would be awarded, however 'felons' would be treated with the 'utmost severity of the law', probably by transportation to the colonies. But little was recovered and no survivors or bodies found.

The weather that winter was so bad that the wreck site was virtually unapproachable. This probably accounts for the total lack of contemporary diving that would by practice have taken place with the barrel or bell divers of the period searching to recover the treasure. For the VOC it was a great financial disaster. They hastened to mitigate this by sending a replacement treasure in the Kasteel Van Woerden so that at least they would not forfeit the trading profit on goods to be brought back from the Indies. And there the remains of the Rooswijk and its treasure lay, covered in many feet of sand and out of man, for another 265 years.

Ken Welling, a skilled carpenter, keen sports diver and wreck enthusiast, regularly dives on the Goodwins, following up leads discovered in old records. For some years he had noticed signs of shipwreck debris in areas of the North Sands, scattered over an area of about 100m by 40m. This is itself is not an unusual sight, for there are sources of known wrecks spanning hundreds of years in the sands. However in 2004, in an unusual weather event, the sands had moved in a spot he was searching, revealing broken and whole boxes lying on the surface and silver bars in and around the boxes. Over that summer, quietly and on his own (in order not to incite suspicion and the risk of pillage and looters) he skillfully recovered 535 bars, two complete chests and a small number of artifacts. A carbine with a side plate bearing the arms of the city of Amsterdam and a Pillar dollar dated 1735 convinced him that the wreck was that of the Rooswijk.

He went to Holland, and made inquiries in England - to plan what he was going to do with the wreck site and hoard he had found. He knew he would have to keep the site secret for as long as possible, but he also knew he had to inform the authorities.

In the meantime, for some while, Rex Cowan had been in the process of renewing the contract he had held from the Dutch Ministry of Finance for many years to salvage Dutch East Indiamen in the Goodwins. He was also assembling a skilled team of divers, scientists and archaeologists primarily to carry out exploration and survey of the Goodwin Sands. He had also recruited a local team of recreational divers, including local fishermen, who had intimate and detailed knowledge of the Goodwins and its secrets. He had already joined up with Nigel

Boston, a skilled diver and shipwreck recovery expert with great experience of search and survey technology and also Captain and owner of the 500 ton research vessel Terschelling. The vessel is equipped with a wet bell, a three-diver surface supply diving system incorporating helmet mounted cameras for recording purposes and an onboard recompression chamber together with a small ROV. Together they put together a team capable of undertaking remote sensing and seabed survey in conditions of poor visibility and strong tides - the usual conditions found on the Goodwins. Ken cautiously approached Rex and eventually revealed his secret to him in great confidence.

The objectives for 2005 changed to cope with this sudden exposure of the wreck. The team was enlarged to include archaeologists and divers with particular experience in excavation in addition to underwater photography, survey, recording, data processing and finds handling under the overall archaeological direction of Alex Hildred. Conservation laboratories were set up on land to receive the artifacts and a team of finds handlers and a conservator were engaged. The project surveyor set up a sophisticated computerized data base onboard which could import positional data from a specifically purchased acoustic positioning system. With the contrast then in position and the team already convened, the process of what was essentially 'rescue' archaeology began.

A full program of the archaeological survey, recording and handling of finds was employed. Experts from Dutch Museums were and are involved and the entire assemblage of artifacts and the complete database and all site records will be based in ZeeMuseum in Vlissingen. Conservation will be completed there, under the direction of a highly skilled Dutch conservator. All finds were reported to H.M. Receiver of Wreck and the Dutch Government.

‘Exhibitions and publications will eventually follow. Depending on the nature of the site, continued survey and possibly controlled evacuation may continue, enabling us to formulate a clearer understanding of the nature of the wreck.

This is the first time ever that a nearly complete assemblage of silver bars together with its packaging has become available for study and display. The bars only survive on shipwrecks as they were inevitably melted down to use as locally minted currency or jewelry in Bengal, Indonesia or Siam. A complete database of the currency, mainly comprising several types and varieties of Mexican coinage from 1720-1738, is in the process of compilation. Every coin (including those sold to finance the past and future work) will be numbered, examined, recorded and in many cases photographed - providing a detailed archived which will be freely available for scholars and museums. The same process has already been completed with the silver bars and will be with the rest of the assemblage. A collaboration between the Dutch Bank and Coinage Museum has been established, and the data on every coin recovered is supplied to them to enable them to select the choice of coins for the State’s of Museums as part of the State’s share. It is anticipated that the rest of the different assemblage will go into the State’s possession for its cultural use and heritage. The coins released are these offered for sale.
